For emergencies and on-site assistance, call:

Police emergencies

Tel: 117

You may file charges at any police station. A victim of a sexual integrity violation is counseled by someone of the same sex; children are generally counseled by women.

If you have been victim to physical or sexual violence, you should have medical assistance and get a doctor's certificate.

If your family doctor is not available, you obtain emergency help and the address and phone number of an emergency doctor by calling 144.

And if you have to evacuate the home?

In case you decide you must leave your joint home, you are advised to take with you:

- your passport or identity card and family booklet
- bank card, cash, or both
- the keys to your apartment or home
- prescription medication
- necessary clothing
- your child's favorite toys and school material
